Delegates to Attend Ceremonial Arrive From Faraway Alaska and Honolulu

CAMDEN POTATATE IS HOST

Atlantic City, Sept. 15.—Shriners from nearly every State in the Union, Alaska and Honolulu are arriving in this city today for the most magnificent ceremonial ever staged in the East, which is being conducted by Crescent Temple, of Trenton.

More than fifty thousand nobles are expected to attend the opening session tonight on one of the ocean piers. The first contingent of nobles to arrive were from Salem Temple, Newark. They were given the Moslem greeting to the oasis of Crescent Temple. Potatate Howard J. Dudley, of Camden, noted as host to the Masons as they arrived in the city.

Imperial Potatate James McCandless, of Honolulu, is expected to arrive late this afternoon. The Imperial Potatate will "salute" along the sand dunes of the famous Jersey coast as the guest of the local Shrine club. A wire from him said he would give expert advice on what to wear to obtain special attention from the salt sea waves with a bathing suit.

A drill staged by the patrols from Mecca, Bount, Cyprus, Persians and Crescent Temples will be one of the features tonight. The ladies who accompanied the nobles here will be entertained on one of the piers while the men are in session.

Every pleasure night at the inlet has been turned over to the visiting nobles for the first entertainment tomorrow. Twelve thousand women will have full sway in the factories of the city, while the nobles are participating in the elaborate parade in the afternoon.

Patrols, bands, bugle and drum corps, chautauq, potatates, past potatates, divans and the nobles will make up the demonstration. Twenty-five hundred in uniform will compose the different divisions and marching clubs. Twenty-five musical organizations will come with the various temples. With the 30,000 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine and their lady friends the number of visitors will be over 50,000.

GRAHAM LONE OPPONENT AS BONUS REPORT PASSES

Measure Goes to Senate Today for Ratification

Washington, Sept. 15.—Representative Graham told the House yesterday he was still opposed to the Bonus bill, as it carries no way of providing the money. This came in the course of a discussion of the parliamentary phase of action on the Tariff bill.

"No provision has been made for the payment of this bounty," Mr. Graham said, "this bonus, or this compensation, whatever it may be called, and until there is a proper source from which the funds can be drawn provided for in this measure, I shall record my vote against it."

Mr. Graham was virtually alone in expressing opposition to the Bonus bill. The conference report on the bill was adopted by the House yesterday after a brief and spiritless discussion, without a record vote.

It will go to the Senate today for ratification and will be sent to the White House for the signature of the President. Failure of opponents to demand a rollcall yesterday afforded no basis for speculation on the possibility of mastering the necessary two-thirds vote for passage over executive disapproval.

Conference elimination and land-reclamation features brought the only debate. It was a point of order that the conferees exceeded their authority in dropping the reclamation features. It was overruled by Speaker Miller.

STEPDAUGHTER CALLS PASTOR HER BETRAYER

Girl Says She Thought Preacher Too Good to Do Wrong

Sidney, O., Sept. 15.—Preliminary hearing in the case of the Rev. S. W. Irwin, pastor of a Methodist church at Amelia, a Coshocton County, charged with being the father of the baby son of his stepdaughter, Elizabeth Laid, eleven, was put over until today, when called in Mayor's Court yesterday.

Irwin was arrested at his home in the city village where he presides over the spiritual destinies of half of the inhabitants, after the child mother had charged him with being the father of her baby. He strongly protested his innocence.

The girl, who until Wednesday had declared she did not know who could have been the father, broke down under repeated grilling, and said her relations with her stepfather had continued for more than a year. She sobbed as she said:

"I didn't know it was wrong. I didn't tell mother, because I thought my stepfather was too good to do anything that wasn't right."

Boatman Overtakes Carmania So Mother May See Dying Son

New York, Sept. 15.—As the steamship Carmania, which she had booked passage to England, backed out into the river for the start of the voyage yesterday, an aged woman, Mrs. Ellen Gardner, of Hounsfield Bay, N. Y., ran to the end of the pier sobbing.

"My son is dying in Liverpool. I must go to him," she told a young tugboat man.

In a minute the young man had thrown the woman's baggage to the rig and carried her to his deck. Half a dozen down the river the tug overhauled the liner. The Carmania was halted. As she started again, the woman blew a kiss to the tugboat man.
